He is also chairman of the Vulcan Municipal Hospital Board and a member of the board of directors of the Associated Hospitals of Alberta.

At 457,761 dozen, toothbrush manufacture in Canada during 1952 was considerably up from 1951.

First Battalion Parade Here

Presentation Parade Held by Highlanders

BY JIM SENTER
(Calgary Herald Staff Writer)

Drums rolled, bagpipes skirled and the sound of marching feet crunching through gravel disrupted the afternoon stillness at Vulcan Sunday as 177 kilted officers and men from one of Southern Alberta's best-known reserve army regiments went on parade.

The unit was the Calgary Highlanders. The occasion, Exercise "Presentation", when, for the first time since the war, the battalion gathered together for a ceremonial parade.

Before the massed ranks of their comrades, six members of the regiment were presented with the Canadian Forces Decoration, the only all-Canadian award for 12 years exemplary service in the armed forces, and an outsider received the Coronation Medal. Making the presentations was Col. Eric L. Harvie, Q.C., honorary colonel of the regiment.

Receiving the Canadian Forces Decoration were: Major W. H. Powell, Capt. B. E. Boylan and Capt. M. B. Huffman, all of Calgary, and Major R. C. R. Munro, officer commanding Vulcan's "A" Company, Calgary Highlanders, and Sgt. R. S. Irwin and Cpl. D. W. Brooks, also of Vulcan.

Receiving the Coronation Medal was J. L. Moyer, chief of the Vulcan police.

Marching in the best traditions of the Calgary Highlanders and the First Great War's 10 Battalion, C.E.F., a unit from whence the present battalion came, and whose immortal glory is written for all time on the battlefield of St. Julien, the battalion fell in on Vulcan St., for an inspection by Col. Harvie and the presentation of medals.

Then, led by the pipe band and surrounded by scores of children, the Highlanders marched up Pacific Avenue to the cenotaph where a wreath was laid in memory of the dead of two great wars. Many townsfolk also assembled to witness the ceremonies, despite the chilling breeze which cut through soldier's kilt and civilian's coat.

The sun shone brightly for the occasion, however.

After the wreath-laying ceremony the battalion, headed by its band, marched back down Pacific Ave. and up Vulcan St. for a march past with Col. Harvie taking the salute.

Honored guests looking on included Mayor W. D. Allan; J. E. Carlson, chairman of the county committee; D. D. McQueen, county secretary; Carson McKay, president of the local branch of the Canadian Legion; and J. L. Moyer, chief of police.

Other guests at the banquet included Lt.-Cmdr. W. M. Giles of Vulcan and Cpl. P. J. Molyneux, R.C.M.P.

Taking part in the parade were detachments from Calgary, Vulcan, Lomond, Champion, Milo, Carman and Staveland.

Following the parade a banquet was held for all ranks in the IOOF hall by the Reid Hill Women's Institute. Convener of the banquet committee was Mrs. Eva Bowie. The head table was beautifully decorated with bowls of cut flowers and on display were statuettes depicting Calgary Highlanders in full dress uniform and the mounted set of regimental jewelry recently presented to the unit by Col. Harvie.

A suggestion that this was but the beginning of a sustained program that may see the Highlanders become one of the "name" units of Canada's reserve army was found in an address given by Col. Harvie, when he said that an effort would be made to see that parades such as Sunday's would be repeated at least once a year.

Already rumors are afoot that the Highlanders will "Troop the Color" next year, and efforts are now underway to have Queen Elizabeth named as the regiment's colonel-in-chief.

"This is one of the most interesting and delightful experiences I've had with this regiment," Col. Harvie said following the parade. He congratulated those who had received the medals and said: "It is a proud moment to think that in our regiment we can give so many service medals in one package."

"The more I see of the bunch I've got, the prouder I am to be commanding officer," said Lt.-Col. Mark Tennant, commanding officer of the unit. Sunday's parade

Bethel Lutheran To Dedicate New Church

Sunday, November 8th, will be a red-letter day for Bethel Lutheran congregation of Vulcan, for on that day it will dedicate its new church to the glory of God in two special dedicatory services. The opening ceremonies before the church door will commence at 11 a.m. with the Rev. A. Gehring of Claresholm, pastor of Bethel congregation, in charge.

Following the opening ceremony the congregation will enter the church for the dedicatory service. The Rev. Fred Ulmer, formerly pastor of Bethel congregation, will preach the dedicatory service, with the local pastor, Rev. Gehring, in charge of the liturgy and performing the act of dedication. The choir of St. Peter's Lutheran Church at Claresholm will enhance the service with several fitting selections.

The Ladies Guild of Bethel Congregation will serve dinner for all worshippers in the basement of the IOOF Hall from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m.

Another dedicatory service will be held in the afternoon beginning at 3:00 p.m. with a guest speaker delivering the dedicatory message. St. Peter's Choir of Claresholm will again sing in this service.

A printed order of service will be provided all worshippers. The special dedication offerings in both services will be applied to the church building fund.

A cordial invitation is herewith extended to all residents of Vulcan and district to attend these dedicatory services as well as the dinner to be served in the IOOF Hall. Watch for announcement in next week's issue of the Vulcan Advocate.

Services Held For Albert Chambers

Funeral services for Albert Wendell Chambers, aged 54, of Vulcan, who died suddenly following a heart seizure on Oct. 19, were conducted from the Vulcan Church of Christ Friday afternoon. Interment followed in the Vulcan cemetery.

Born at Palouse, Wash., on August 3, 1899, he moved to the Armada district in 1909 and to Vulcan about seven years ago. Here he operated the garage at the Morrison Massey-Harris shop.

He is survived by his widow, Margaret at Vulcan; three daughters, Ethel at Calgary, and Dorothy and Linda at Vulcan; three sons, Ross and Lawrence at Calgary and Robert at Vulcan; six grandchildren in Calgary; two sisters, Mrs. Tom McKenzie in Seattle and Mrs. Ray Hornberger at Vulcan; and six brothers, Stancel at Armada, E. D. at Great Falls, Edmund at Calgary, Edgar at Vancouver, William at Conrad, Mont., and David at Shelby, Mont.

Carlson Named Hospital Director

J. E. Carlson, chairman of the Vulcan Hospital Board, was elected a member of the Board of Directors of the Associated Hospitals of Alberta, at that organization's annual convention, held in Edmonton last week.

Attending the convention with Mr. Carlson were D. B. Smith, member of the Vulcan Hospital Board; Miss Marian Sissons, hospital matron; and Lance Weatherburn, secretary-treasurer of the hospital.

This perfect Indian Summer weather is bringing forth lots of little stories about flowers still blooming and one item in the Lethbridge Herald tells of a resident there picking a quart of strawberries. Vulcan can top this, for last week Mrs. Thora Burrell picked no less than three quarts of strawberries from her garden at the farm north-east of town.

showing "a little of the spirit we're trying to get into the unit."

Receive Canadian Forces Decoration

These three Vulcan men were among the six officers and non-commissioned officers of the Calgary Highlanders who were presented with the Canadian Forces Decoration, the only all-Canadian award, for 12 years exemplary military service, at the battalion parade held in Vulcan on Sunday. Staff-Sergeant R. S. Irwin (left) and Cpl. D. W. Brooks (right) have both served 12 years in the Calgary Highlanders (Reserve Force). Major Bob Munro (centre) served overseas with the Highlanders during the Second World War and now commands "A" Company, with headquarters at the Vulcan Armouries and detachments at Champion, Carman, Milo and Lomond.

Conveners Are Appointed

Mrs. S. Manning Named President Home & School

The regular meeting of the Vulcan Home and School Association was held Oct. 20 in the grade one room of the school.

It was moved by Miss Lukey and seconded by Mrs. Brooks that the $50 which has been set aside for school sports equipment be spent before the end of the year. The motion was carried.

The Home and School Assoc. will give a donation of $30 to the Library fund.

Election of officers for the new season was held. Mr. Kumlin acting as chairman. The officers elected are as follows: President, Mrs. S. W. Manning; Vice-president, Mrs. E. Roebuck; Secretary-treasurer, Miss J. Marsellus; Program committee convener, Mrs. G. Gardner; Membership convener, Mrs. R. Walker; Lunch committee convener, Mrs. H. Roebuck.

At the conclusion of the business meeting, the teachers were introduced to the members and friends. A sing song was held with Mr. Kumlin at the piano. Lunch was served by Mrs. H. Roebuck and her committee.

Miss Cameron's grade 4 room won the prize of $2.00 for having the most parents at the meeting.

Couples Club At Lethbridge Pageant

The Couples Club of the Vulcan United Church opened its fall season of activities by planning and arranging a trip to Lethbridge, the occasion, being the pageant "The Triumphs of the Faith", presented at the Lethbridge Civic Centre on October 7. Twenty-one persons made the journey and greatly enjoyed the pageant.

Then on Wednesday evening, October 21, the first business meeting of the group was held in the basement of the United Church. Plans were made for an interesting and active winter. The outlook from the church basement has even brightened, thanks to the club ladies' efforts on the windows and the efforts of the men are showing on the church grounds.

All interested married couples are invited to join. The club meets every second Wednesday at 8 p.m.

Brownies Hear Safety Talk

(Contributed)

Thirty-four happy youngsters met for a Halloween party at the Scout-Guide hall on Tuesday at 4 p.m. Each six had cleverly decorated corners, with streamers, black cats and witches in abundance. A special guest for the occasion was Police Constable Moyer, who was brought into the "magic circle" while the Brownies made their fairy ring. The purpose of his visit was to talk to Brownies about road sense, safety and courtesy, whether as a pedestrian or rider.

The Brownies know he is their friend. We do thank the parents who so kindly contributed to the refreshments and to the association for pop and balloons. A very happy party ended with the singing of The Queen and closing prayer.

Grab-run Thief Quickly Nabbed

Quick work by Chief Constable J. L. Moyer, accompanied by Constable John Grant, on Tuesday night resulted in the arrest of a grab-and-run thief within half-an-hour of the robbery.

Shortly before 11 p.m., Mrs. Dobbs of the Dobbs Hotel, was counting the cash register receipts and had left it on the counter for a moment when C. R. Sutter, a transient, grabbed a handful of change amounting to $20.21, and ran out the door.

The town police were notified and Sutter was apprehended 25 minutes later and found in possession of $11.75 in quarters. He appeared before Police Magistrate W. A. Shields on Wednesday and was sentenced to 30 days hard labor in the Lethbridge Provincial Gaol.

John R. O'Brien, another transient, was arrested in Fernie, B.C. on a warrant field by the Vulcan (Town) Police on charges of false pretences. He had passed two cheques on a non-existent account to Short's Garage.

He was returned to Vulcan from Fernie by RCMP Cpl. Molyneux and Chief Constable Moyer of the Vulcan Police. O'Brien appeared before Police Magistrate Shields and was fined $50 and costs on one charge and placed on one year's suspended sentence on the second charge.

Ladies Auxiliary Makes Donations

Fourteen members were present at the October meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion, when Mrs. Sparks, vice-president, conducted the meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. H. Matlock.

Mrs. Grace Ross' transfer from the Sundre branch was received, and members were pleased to welcome her here.

Committee reports were given, with Mrs. Hunter reporting very favorable response to the appeal for Wreath orders.

Correspondence included an appeal from the CNIB to which $5 was voted; a letter from the Vulcan Library asking assistance and to this cause the sum of $25 was donated. Inasmuch as no contribution to the Memorial Swimming Pool had been made this year, it was decided to vote $100 to it at this time, to assist with any deficit there may be from the summer's activities.

After some discussion re ways and means and as means, too, of making the next meeting more interesting, it was decided to hold an auction sale of home-cooked foods at this time. There will also be a short social period and members are asked to make a special effort to be present. Your support of your Legion Auxiliary is needed.

For the winter months meetings will again begin at 8 o'clock sharp. Members are reminded to be sure to try to assist with the sale of poppies on Saturday, Nov. 7.

Lunch was served by the committee to bring the evening to a pleasant close.

Vote 116 For, 3 Against

Ratepayers Approve Water Tower By-law

The heaviest by-law vote in several years was recorded on Monday at the town office when ratepayers of the Town of Vulcan approved a by-law to provide for the erection of an elevated storage tank for the water system by an overwhelming majority. Votes in favor of the by-law totalled 116, with only 3 ratepayers voting against it.

The by-law vote required a two-thirds majority to pass.

About 350 proprietary ratepayers of the town are eligible to vote on such matters.

The proposed addition to the water system of an elevated storage tank has already been approved by the Department of Public Health and the way is now cleared for the issuing of debentures to cover the amount of $47,800 which will be borrowed from the Provincial Government under the provisions of the Municipal Capital Expenditure Loans Act. The debentures will bear interest at the rate of 3 1/2% and will be payable in 20 equal consecutive annual amortized instalments of combined principal and interest of $3,287.63 each year.

It is anticipated that work on the project will commence as early as possible in the spring.

Pioneer Rancher J. W. Bateman Dies at Age 85

One of the earliest pioneers of this district was laid to rest on Monday, Oct. 26, when funeral services for Joseph William Bateman, aged 85 years, were held from the Lethbridge L.D.S. Chapel.

The organ prelude was given by Grace B. Buchan, followed by the mixed quartet of the Lethbridge First ward singing the hymn, "O My Father", Fred E. Puzey, presided.

James W. Ellis of Champion gave the invocation and Frederick M. Smith of Champion gave the eulogy. He told how the deceased had been born near Salt Lake City in 1868 and of his attending the Brigham Young Academy at the age of 21, prior to coming to Cardston in 1897 where he ranch-ed until filling a two-year mission for the L.D.S. Church in the southern States at the turn of the century.

In 1903 he and his brother John, brought their cattle herd to what is now the Vulcan district and in December of 1904 he married Catherine Enders in the Logan Temple in Utah, following which they homesteaded just northeast of here long before there was either railway or town.

David K. Elton of Lethbridge, who labored in the same mission field at the same time, also gave an inspiring address.

"Goin' Home" was beautifully sung by James Weaver while President O. W. Urnsbach gave fitting concluding remarks.

The mixed quartet capably sang "Abide With Me" and the benediction was given by Walter J. Griffin.

Besides his wife Catherine, he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. May Nelson and Mrs. Lola Findlay, both of Vulcan, five sons, Leon, George and Glen of Vulcan, Clifford of Calgary and Delbert of Victoria and ten grandchildren, as well as a host of friends which was evidenced by the beautiful floral tributes at the service and at home and by the considerable number of friends who travelled some distances in order to pay their last respects.

The deceased's five sons and his nephew, Ephraim Bateman, of Taylorville, acted as pallbearers. Graveside prayer was given by Francis E. Griffin and interment was made in the Lethbridge Mountain View cemetery with Christensen Bros. in charge.

By a strange coincidence, Mr. Bateman's life-long friend and school chum, Walter A. Dimond, near Salt Lake City, Utah, died the same day and was buried on the same day.

Mrs. Bea Wenger Dies at Red Deer

Funeral services were held from St. Luke's Anglican Church Red

First Aid Class Starts Friday

A very large enrollment is anticipated for the St. John's Ambulance first aid class which will be held at the Vulcan school, starting this Friday, Oct. 30, at 8 p.m. The class will be sponsored by the County of Vulcan Civil Defence Committee and will be the last such class to be conducted for some time.

Those who have previously qualified in this work are requested to take the course again in order to get their voucher or medallion.

J. L. Moyer Gets Coronation Medal

J. L. MOYER

J. L. Moyer (above) Vulcan police chief, has received the Coronation Medal, to be worn in commemoration of the coronation of Queen Elizabeth. It has been awarded to Mr. Moyer for his services as president of the Bassano Branch of the Canadian Legion when he lived at that town previous to moving to Vulcan.

The medal was presented to Mr. Moyer by Col. Eric L. Harvie at the presentation parade of the Calgary Highlanders in Vulcan on Sunday.

Injured in Freak Accident

The Advocate is short-staffed this week as the result of an unusual accident that put John Black, our compositor, in the hospital.

Driving into Scales Motors on Sunday, he crawled under the car to attach a new starter cable. The car was in gear, and the starter engaged, with the result that when the cable was attached the car moved backwards and one wheel hit his shoulder and neck. His cries for help were heard by Wilf Hogg and Milt Scales, who were in another part of the garage, and they literally lifted the car off him.

Dr. A. D. Tompkins was called and the young man was rushed to hospital. No bones were broken, fortunately, and he is now recovering from shock and badly bruised muscles.

To complicate matters around the busy Advocate office, another staff member, Betty Sampson, goes into hospital today (Thursday) to have her appendix removed.

Deer, for Mrs. Beatrice Evelyn Wenger who died suddenly at her home on October 16, 1953 after an illness of seven years.

Beatrice Wenger, nee Loverington, was born in Virden, Man., in 1896, moving with the family to Armsfrong, B. C. in 1905. After graduating from Nursing School, Royal Inland Hospital, Kamloops, B. C. she came to Vulcan, Alberta, with the family in 1918.

In 1922 she married Harry Wenger, agent for the Imperial Oil at Vulcan. She has lived in Claresholm, Carstairs, Okotoks, and Red Deer since moving from Vulcan.

Surviving are her husband, a son, Jack at Edmonton; a daughter, Evelyn at Calgary; two grandchildren; three sisters, Mrs. F. L. Simington, Mrs. C. Kettleson, Mrs. R. W. Simington, and one brother, Lorne Loverington, all of Calgary.

Rev. Lang officiated and cremation followed. Pallbearers were Fred Simington, Con Kettleson, Robert Simington, Lorne Loverington, Jim Kettleson and Stan Kettleson.

EDMONTON REPORT

EDMONTON: Although they deal with a lot of theory during their years of academic study, students of agriculture at the University of Alberta almost all have plenty of practical experience in real-life farming.

Dr. A. G. McCalla, dean of the faculty of agriculture, reported last week that of the 28 students who registered for first year agriculture studies last month, 26 have fathers who are practicing farmers. Of the 29 second year
"ag" students, 24 are from farm families.

"The largest majority of our agriculture students these days come from the farms," the dean said. "It hasn't always been so.
There was a period of about five years not so long ago, when half the students were from urban centres."

But even if the student does come from a town or city he must,
before the end of his second year, prove that he has had at least five months of practical farming experience.

This does not prove to be a stumbling block for the students from non-farming families, for in most cases these students have fathers who are in work closely allied to farming.

Beside a majority of the students coming from the farm, one-quarter to one-third are graduates of one of the province's agriculture schools, while half of the students have had junior farm club experience. Dr. McCalla fully believes that the agriculture school and farm club work prompted many of the students to continue studying agriculture at the university.

Today's agriculture freshman class is composed of students who are considerably younger than the veterans who entered university by the thousands after the last war.
They are 19 to 20 years of age.

Where will these 28 students fit into the employment picture when they graduate four years from now with their degrees of bachelor or science in agriculture?
Dr. McCalla also had an answer for this, when interviewed. A recent survey of U of A agriculture graduates of several years, showed that 18 percent returned to the land after graduation and became farmers. Last year, the dean reported, was extraordinary as 12 of the 25 graduates hung their diplomas on the wall of a farm home and began tilling the land. Of this year's 20 graduates, he expects five to return to farming.

What of the others? The survey showed that 95 per cent of the graduates still are in some field of agriculture.

The largest single group (27 per cent) in recent years is composed of agriculture graduates who answered the call from commercial and industrial firms. It has been a growing demand for persons with agricultural training from fertilizer companies, packing plants feed mills, flour mills, seed cleaning plants, implement and dairy companies.

Said the dean: "More and more industries engaged in handling and processing farm products and supplying agriculture equipment are employing the technically-trained man."

The federal government hired another 22 per cent of the Alberta ag graduates, placing them on experimental farms, or on the administration of feed, fertilizer or seed acts, livestock grading, while others are in the laboratories of the National Research Council and in the department of national health and welfare.

Another 14 per cent went into provincial government departments doing administrative and extension work, on the staffs of agriculture schools and filling the growing demand for teachers of vocational agriculture. Ten per cent found their ways into agricultural journalism and radio work.

A small percentage eventually follow lines other than agriculture.
For instance Jack McAllister, a U of A ag graduate, is director of agencies for the Sun Life of Canada, a major insurance company.

Marketing Soil Conserving Crops

Forage crops for soil improvement and livestock to take care of the forage is an excellent combination, and one that need not be confined to the large herd owner. With hay this fall and pasture next spring, the man not interested in large scale operations might feed a few calves to advantage.

Tests at the University of Alberta during the past two years under direction of Dr. L. W. McElroy, Professor of Animal Science, suggest how. Calves, bought in November, have been wintered on hay, carried on cultivated pasture through the summer, and marketed in the fall. No grain was fed, and the only supplements were salt, ground limestone and bone meal.

In the 1951-52 trials, 12 calves were fed a mixture of one-third cut alfalfa hay and two-thirds cut on hay, supplemented with the minerals mentioned. In May, they were moved to an 11 acre bromo-alfalfa pasture where they remained until slaughtered in September. It required 16½ tons of hay and 11 acres of pasture to bring these twelve calves from their initial weight of 518 lb. to their final weight of 885 lb. With hay yields estimated at 2 tons per acre, this meant a total gain of 4402 lb. from less than 20 acres of crop land, or 200 lb. live weight per acre.

Similar trials, started in November of last year, are still under way, but the dry feed in this case consisted of one-half alfalfa hay and one-half grass hay. The greater efficiency with which the calves converted this into beef was quite marked. For 100 lb. gain, 1253 lb. of the grass-alfalfa hay was required compared to 1638 lb. of the oat-alfalfa hay used in the previous years test. Complete results of the present year's trials are not yet available since the animals are still on test. It appears definite, however that results of the 1951-52 trials will be confirmed in that one acre of forage crop land is again yielding over 200 lb. live weight of beef.

For the man with hay this fall and pasture next year, this method of using forage crops might well be considered. Dr. McElroy suggests. Calves bought in the fall, wintered on hay and carried through the summer on cultivated pasture, he says, could be marketed off pasture, off cover-crop, or after a short period of grain feeding in the dry lot as desired.

The Crow and the Pitcher

A THIRSTY CROW found a Pitcher with some water in it, but so little was there that, try as she might, she could not reach it with her beak, and it seemed as though she would die of thirst within sight of the remedy. At last she hit upon a clever plan. She began dropping pebbles into the Pitcher, and with each pebble the water rose a little higher until at last it reached the brim, and the knowing bird was enabled to quench her thirst.

MAJORVILLE

Rhodes-Bertram
Before a candlelit altar with ferns and chrysanthemums in shades of yellow, Marilyn Louise Bertram exchanged wedding vows with John Alper Rhodes at an evening ceremony at North Hill United Church on Saturday, Oct. 24. Rev. J. L. Pottruff officiated for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Bertram of Milo and the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Rhodes of Brant.

Given in marriage by her father the bride was gownned in nylon tulle over taffeta, with a shirred strapless bodice. Over this she wore a fitted redingote of heavy slipper satin with long lily point sleeves and cut away front which fell into a cathedral train. From a Juliet cap fell a finger tip veil. Her only jewellery was a neck lace worn by her mother on her wedding day. Her bouquet was of red roses and stephanotis.

The bridesmaid Elspeth Loggie of Edmonton wore a strapless gown of coral nylon tulle and crepe, with jacket. The full skirt poised over crinoline. She wore a Juliet cap of the same material as her gown. Her bouquet was of white carnations and blue ribbons. The groom was attended by his cousin Ian Parker of Devon, Alta. The guests were ushered by the groom's brothers Charles and Clarence Rhodes.

Before the ceremony Mrs. J. Godel of Edmonton sang the "Lord's Prayer" and "I Love You" during the signing of the register. R. Dalton played the wedding music and accompanied the soloist.

The Sun Room of the Palliser hotel was the setting for a reception after the church rites. The bride party was assisted in receiving the 100 guests by the parents of the bride and groom. The bride's table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake flanked by white tapers in silver holders and vases of pink and white carnations.

Howard Nixon of Nanton, uncle of the bride, proposed the toast to which the groom very fittingly replied.

For the honeymoon to Seattle and points in the U.S.A. the bride changed to an ensemble of grey-blue with accessories to match. Her corsage was red sweetheart roses.

On their return the young couple will reside in Vulcan.

"Our Heritage"

A long cavalcade of men and horses, red river carts, cattle and agricultural implements, rode out of Dufferin, Manitoba, on July 8th, 1871. They were the North-West Mounted Police, bound for the unknown west, ready for war and prepared for peace.

For four long months they walked and rode across the plains of Canada, in a long, winding line. Finally, at an old Indian Campsite in what is now Alberta—a spot known to the Indians as "The Place Where The Trail Crosses Oldman River"—they set up camp. The permanent fort for these North-West Mounted Police under their Colonel James Macleod established on the island in the river, was named FORT MACLEOD.

The Mounties brought law and order to early Alberta, helped clean out Fort Whoopee and the whiskey traders, made it safer for settlers and their families to "come west" and settle in greater numbers.

From those early beginnings, MACLEOD grew to thrive with its surrounding farming and ranching industries. Its name was changed back to FORT MACLEOD in 1922 as a salute to those early days of its founding that history we know as "Our Alberta Heritage."
